

LOCATIONS

MOORHEAD

Mississippi Delta Community College is located at Moorhead, Mississippi, near the geographical center of the Mississippi Delta. The city is served by two highways and one railroad; State Highway 3, north and south; U.S. Highway 82, east and west, and the Columbus and Greenville Railway. The Delta Lines operates bus lines through the city affording convenient accessibility to nearby cities of Cleveland, Greenwood, Greenville, Jackson, and Memphis. The campus is located six blocks south of the business district of the city of Moorhead on State Highway 3, at the intersection of Cherry and Olive Streets.

The Moorhead campus of Mississippi Delta Community College covers two hundred and twenty acres on the eastern edge of Moorhead, Mississippi in Sunflower County and is composed of twenty principal buildings. State agencies and college authorities, including the local Board of Trustees, continuously strive to provide for the needed physical facilities.

GREENVILLE

The Greenville Higher Education Center (GHEC) is a collaborative effort of three state supported higher education institutions: Delta State University (DSU), Mississippi Valley State University (MVSU), and Mississippi Delta Community College (MDCC).

Located south of Greenville, Mississippi, on Highway 1, the three-story facility provides over 75,000 square feet of assignable space. The GHEC houses eighteen classrooms, two distance learning classrooms, two media centers, a multi-purpose room, an instructional resource center, four computer labs, two art classrooms, a nursing lab, an A & P lab, chemistry lab, physics lab, biology lab and thirty-five offices.

The College received approval to offer the Associates Degree at the GHEC in 2003 from the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS).

INDIANOLA

The MDCC Charles W. Capps Jr. Technology Center, a division of Mississippi Delta Community College, provides customized training, education, and skills improvement to new and existing businesses and industries within the MDCC service area. The Capps Center's 30,000 square feet physical plant houses an office wing, a seminar room, food preparation area, and four high bay areas that occupy a total of 8,000 square feet of training space for mechanical, electrical, process and assembly skills. Classroom space, three computer labs, and a distance learning lab complete the accommodations available in the Capps Center.

The Capps Center, opened in 2001, is located in Indianola, Mississippi, on U. S. Highway 82, seven miles west of the Moorhead campus. This location strategically places the Capps Center at the geographical center of the seven county service area of Mississippi Delta Community College. A Cleveland native and long time appropriations chairman of the House of Representatives is honored in the naming of the Charles W. Capps Jr. Technology Center

GREENWOOD

As a result of the continued increase in demand for classes in Greenwood, 20 miles east of the College's main campus, the College entered into a lease agreement for 5,000 square feet of space in downtown Greenwood during the spring 2003 semester to offer classes in academic, technical, work force training, and GED.

Demand for classes increased in Greenwood during the summer of 2005; therefore, the College leased a 10,000 square foot facility at 207 West Park Avenue and begin offering classes in the new facility that fall. The Greenwood Center offers academic, technical, and GED classes as well as workforce training sessions.

The College received approval to offer the Associates Degree at the Greenwood Center in 2008 from the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS).

DREW

The Drew Center was opened in the spring of 2006. The Drew Center, located on Main Street, consists of six classrooms to accommodate academic, nursing assistant, and ABE/GED classes.
